

You don't have to assume the burden of managing your parents' estate

Your parents had the best intentions by naming you successor trustee of their estate. They wanted to pass along their legacy to you and your siblings. But you have a family of your own and all the responsibilities that come with that. ■ That's why it's time to consider enlisting the services of A.G. Edwards Trust Company, FSB.* A.G. Edwards Trust Company FSB. will handle the estate responsibilities you're not comfortable with or unable to do—responsibilities like bill payment, asset distribution, tax preparation, protection against probate and investment management. ■ And if you're like many families, you and your siblings are scattered throughout the country. With more than 700 offices in the U.S. wherever you are, whatever your financial need, a knowledgeable, experienced A.G.
